MOOD: 😊 amused

So the Trollish Cat and I took a day off from work (Your Comp Time: Use It or Use It) and went out to the real rocks to celebrate the passing of the Demon Winter.

I'm halfway up a fifty footer, groping around for a good handhold, and what do I put my hand on but something sticky and squishy...

Possibly the best climber prank ever.

I left it where I found it, of course. Or, well, technically.

I moved it to a different route.

The really best climber prank ever will be if it gets the guy who put it out there in the first place.

I guess we will never know.

This looks like a good idea.

...

This.

...

Little guy's not bad.

Gotta teach RHex
to smear.

That's a TOY lizard, not a live one, right?

One of those squishy, sticky toys.

I figured from the "squishy and sticky" description. My kid used to be inordinately fond of the small ones that came in gumball machines. Standard grocery shopping bribe.

Dude!

That is totally awesome.

Y'know, right then, if that had been a rubber chicken, we would have cooked and eaten it.

Thanks for not mentioning that I screamed like a girl.

But that was the only appropriate response! Otherwise you haven't expressed proper appreciation for the prank, and it goes all *thud*.

Kinda like, you know, someone's April 1st maneuverings and the responses thereunto...

That gives a whole new ddimension to "Blue-tailed skink".

I hope you had ice cream later to soothe your nerves.

Oh, that's a brilliant prank! And moving it to another route just raises the level of awesome.
